Credit union's branch office provides student opportunity, community service

Visions Federal Credit Union is officially open for business at the Harpursville Central School District.

On January 12, VFCU President/CEO Ty Muse kicked off the school day with a special ribbon-cutting ceremony and a special message during morning announcements: "Free ice cream for all students during lunch!" He then toured school facilities with Principal Kristine Conrow and our new student-Visions employees - Samantha Cower, Noah Dann, Chuck Huizinga and Brynn Crocker.

Several news outlets were on hand to report on the festivities.

The student employees receive credit for classes (and paychecks!) for their participation, are able to work at other Visions branches during school vacations, and will also be eligible for VFCU scholarships.

The branch has been open for several weeks now and has held contests and incentives for staff and students to join and begin saving. We feel very fortunate to have this financial institution for staff and students here in our rural area.

A message from the superintendent

Dear residents,

It's hard to believe that we are now in the second half of the 2016-2017 school year. As I sit at my desk writing this message and watching the snow fall (again), I'd like to take a moment to pause and reflect on the wonderful things that have occurred in our district, things that help to shape our community and impact our students. Many of these items have been highlighted in the news in the recent past and have painted the district in the positive light that it deserves. This is such a great way to think about our schools, the amazing students that grace our halls each and every day, and the caring staff, parents and community members who give of their time and talent to make these things happen – all positive outgrowths of the work that we do.

In the past two or three months alone, we've been highlighted for our annual Thanksgiving luncheon attended by members of the Eastern Broome Senior Center, our Santa's Workshop for the elementary students, the "Ag in the Classroom" opportunity through state Sen. Fred Akshar's office, the grand opening of our Visions Federal Credit Union branch in the Jr./Sr. High School, our student-athletes and their successes both individually and as a team, and Harpursville students who have completed community service projects. While these stories stood out, I can assure you that there are many things happening in our classrooms on a daily basis that we can feel good about and be proud of. This is the perfect mindset to embrace as we transition into the second half of the school year. Furthermore, ensuring that we preserve and promote these educational opportunities in the future is of the utmost importance and provides the perfect point of focus as we enter another budget season.

Consistent with our approach last year, I would like to invite and encourage you to be a part of the budget development process for the 2017-2018 school year. It is imperative that the Board of Education and I hear from residents and that you remain well-informed about the budget during the formative stages of its development. As we embrace this process, please be assured that our No. 1 priority remains

“There are many things happening in our classrooms on a daily basis that we can feel good about and be proud of.”

our students. We will post all budget-related documents at the following address on our website: <http://www.hcs.stier.org/BudgetTaxInformation.aspx>. You will notice that the budget calendar is already posted there, showing dates for all things related to the annual budget vote such as our initial budget presentation, budget workshops, regular BOE meetings, the budget hearing and voting date. Each of the meetings scheduled enable everyone in attendance to learn our thinking and to provide feedback on the process. Our goal, of course, is to ensure that the budget supports the educational opportunities our students deserve and that it's one our residents can stand behind.

In the spirit of being forthright, planning for the 2017-2018 budget will present the district with some additional challenges as we continue the work we started last year. We knew that we would need a multi-year solution to the changes in budgeting and spending that we engaged in last year and that fact has not changed. Despite the challenges, the Board of Education and I remain committed to providing our students with an outstanding education.

In closing, we have some work that lies ahead, but we also have a great deal to be proud of and to look forward to. A continued cooperative spirit that keeps the students at the center of our thoughts and actions is the approach that will get the job done. As always, please be sure to contact me through the district office if you have any questions, concerns or input. Best wishes for the remainder of the 2016-2017 school year and thank you, in advance, for your support of our schools.

Yours in education,

Michael J. Rullo

Academic planning conferences

Planning conferences are being scheduled for students in grades 8, 9, 10 and 11. Notifications are being sent to the parents/guardians of these students by mail. Every effort is being made to avoid scheduling these appointments during students' instructional class periods. If you need to reschedule an appointment please call the guidance office at 693-8108 as we encourage parent/guardian input and feel that this is an important factor in your student's success at Harpursville Central Schools.

After-school program focuses on team-building

Art with a Twist and Book Club recently got together to work on enhancing their team-building skills.

The students worked together while having a lot of fun. They strategically tried “walking on water” to get to the other side of the room using only construction paper steps.

Another team-building activity the students enjoyed was a game variation using a Hula-

Hoop. The object of the timed game is to get the Hula-Hoop all the way around the circle of students without letting go of each other’s hands or letting the hoop touch the floor, all the while without talking.

The students enjoyed trying these team-building activities over and over so they could improve their times.

Sharing stories helps span the years between classes of students

Recently, some kindergarteners had the opportunity to read their "true stories" to one of Debra Parker's sixth-grade ELA classes. The kindergarteners had been working on a narrative writing unit for two months and sharing their published stories was part of their writing celebration at the end of the unit. The kindergarteners rose to great heights during this celebration, comfortably reading their writing aloud to a brand new group of older students. They were very eager to show off what they had accomplished. In return, the sixth-graders were great listeners and supporters, complimenting the younger students on all their hard work. Toward the end of the celebration, the sixth-grade students shared some of their writing with their younger partners. The kindergarteners were amazed to discover that the features they are learning and using in their writing now will continue to be used in the future.

We're making a splash -Amanda Bowen, special education teacher

The fifth-graders have made a big splash in swim class this session. They have had the opportunity to dive off the blocks, learn how to do flip-turns, and refine their skills of three different strokes.

The students also have had the chance to play games that help build their skills.

Great job, fifth-graders!

On January 21, music teacher Nicole Cole and 13 Harpursville students attended the Winter All-County Music Festival in Chenango County. As the bus pulled away at 7:30 a.m. headed for Sherburne-Earlville, students prepared themselves for seven hours of rehearsal and a concert at the end of the day to show all they had learned.

The junior chorus included six Harpursville students: Zachary Turck, Ena Race, Sara Williams, Yasmine Warner, Karina Seeley and Dylan Faiella. They joined 70 other students from Greene, Norwich, Oxford, Unadilla Valley, Bainbridge-Guilford, Sherburne-Earlville, Afton and Sidney in perfecting three songs: "How Can I Keep from Singing My Song," "The Prayer," and "Pretty Little Angel Eyes." Their conductor was the vocal music teacher from Oxford, Michael Moren. What a great show they presented.

The senior chorus included seven Harpursville students: Jacob Peterson, Lily-Anne Mauzy, Courtney Phillips, Sarah Peterson, Tara Merrell, Annamarie Goosley and Abby Kelley. They joined

76 others from the previously cited districts to form a glorious-sounding choir. This top-notch group joined with director Jeffrey Welcher to perform "Three Hungarian Folk Songs," "All My Trials," and "I Often Dance." These songs were breathtaking, and the rich sound coming from this group is one you won't want to miss in future performances.

The Chenango County Spring Festival takes place this year in the gymnasium at Greene High School on March 11. Harpursville will have students participating in the swing choir, junior band and senior band. The concert is at 3 p.m. and tickets will be sold at the entrance. Residents are encouraged to come out and support these talented students and experience the sounds our best musicians are capable of producing.

Hornets receive state honors

The Hornets football team was well represented on the 2016 All-State football team. Each offseason, The New York State Sports Writers Association selects a statewide All-Star team. The Hornet football team had four of its players chosen to be part of this select group. This honor culminates an offseason of team and individual accolades for this select group of Harpursville athletes, who finished with a 7-2 record and a #15 ranking in the final Class D New York state poll.

Congratulations to junior Josh Wilson for being selected to the first team All-State football team as an all purpose player. Senior Madison Hoover was selected as second team half-back. Seniors Joey Kiehle and Noah Barriger were named honorable mentions at tackle. Great job, guys!

Cadets from NY-292 presented the colors prior to the Buffalo Bills last home game on December 24 at New Era Field.

Broome-Tioga cadets have also presented the colors at New York Jets and Giants football games at MetLife Stadium, NASCAR events at Watkins Glen Speedway and numerous sporting events in the Greater Binghamton area.

Students learn job skills though career exploration at district offices

Students in the Career Exploration class got to learn about a variety of jobs in the district while gaining some hands-on experience by job shadowing in the Jr. Sr. High School office of Principal Kristine Conrow.

Over the past few months, students assisted with many behind-the-scenes clerical responsibilities performed in the school office setting. They helped with items such as mail distribution, website updates, payroll reporting, morning memo preparation, morning announcement preparation and much more. The experience provided a glimpse of what school-related professional work entails, while giving staff a chance to get to know the students in a different environment.

When time allowed, staff members were able to chat about post-high school career plans and share some of their own experiences and advice, encouragement and inspiration.

Jr. Sr. High School Administrative Assistant Tabatha Rhodes said one of the highlights of the program for her was the holiday greeting card she received from one of the students after his job shadow experience ended. She said the program is a fantastic way to get students – most of whom are in grades 10 and 11 – to begin thinking about careers after high school.

The Career Exploration students have also shadowed classroom teachers and staff in the cafeteria, guidance and attendance offices, maintenance, health office, library and bus garage.

Thanks goes to teachers Kelly Rooney and Leslie Whaley for encouraging class participation in the program and for giving school employees the pleasure of working with these fine young people.

Rhodes expressed her appreciation for the interest and hard work provided by the entire career exploration group, which included Dan Cower, Zach Fynboe, Teague Rezucha, Kyle Grose, Robbie Ayers, Jon Jones, Josiah Niles and Sean Snyder.
