Students, families tour Paris at 'French is Fun Night'

By Megan White

On February 26, students and community members joined us for our first annual French is Fun Night. And what a fun night it was!

"Tourists" spent the evening getting their passports stamped at each place they visited and learning some French words as they travelled through our version of Paris. More than 120 participants got to visit a number of places sponsored by our many clubs:

- Le Bureau de Tourisme (Student Council)
- Le Parc zoologique (Bio Club)
- Le musée de technologie (Tech Club)
- La Tour Eiffel (Class of 2015)
- La poste (Class of 2019)
- Le musée d'histoire (Yorkers)
- Le Louvre (National Art Honor Society and Soap Club)
- Le magasin de masques (Class of 2020)
- La bibliothèque (Class of 2018)
- Le café français (French Club)

100 DAYS... OF WARMTH

Kindergartener Sophie Messinger knows the importance of having warm hands – and a warm heart as well.

For her "100th day of school" project, Sophie and her mother sewed together 50 pairs of mittens that, once the 100-Day celebration was over, were donated to elementary school nurse Jillian Percival. Sophie's mittens project was then gradually disassembled at the health office and handed out to fellow students as need arose.

Great job with a heart-warming idea, Sophie. Congratulations!

Sticking with positive changes long enough for positive results by Jane Ehrman, M.Ed

Whether recovering from an illness or injury, or working to improve your health, if you're like most of us, you want to see results fast! Trying to lose weight? You want to see those numbers on the scale and inches on the tape measure drop right away. Research shows that most people quit new, healthy lifestyle changes within three weeks. That's because they feel discouraged that they aren't seeing big results — fast! Sound familiar? When you make healthy behavior changes — improving your diet, increasing your activity levels, or practicing stress management techniques — the benefits occur on the inside first, where you can't see them. You can't see arteries opening or muscle fibers rebuilding.

And it takes about three weeks of consistent meditation for changes in the brain to occur, helping you become more responsive and less reactive in stressful situations.

Think of it this way: When you take a road trip at night, your car's headlights allow you to see about 200 feet in front of you, yet you trust that if you stay on the road and follow the signs, you'll arrive at your destination. The same is true when it comes to making healthy lifestyle changes. Stop judging your progress and yourself; just stay the course. Remember: Healing and health improvements begin on the inside, and you need to trust in the process.

Building with Lego's and other creative things

During the last few weeks, students in the After-School Program have been working on creating various projects. The kindergarten and first-grade students have been using their creative skills to make unique projects out of Lego's. The fifth-grade students celebrated St. Patrick's Day by creating 3-D paper shamrocks. – Trisha Williams

The sixth-graders constructed their own airplanes. The students were very cooperative and positive toward each other when a peer needed suggestions with their airplane project. Students followed a pre-made plan or creatively came up with their own plan. Students excitedly flew their planes to see whose plane would travel the farthest, then made modifications to try to improve the second flight. - Sabrina Bixby

French, from the cover

Others participating included the Theater Club, which provided some mimes to perform at the event, and the Yearbook Club, which provided several of the pictures to accompany this article.

We would like to thank all of the club advisors and clubs for their participation. Additionally, we would like to thank Gail Fortner-Bump for storing and transporting the Eiffel Tower, Heather Medovich for her help organizing and advertising, Cody Hawkins for creating an advertising trailer, and the Ed White family for their help planning the event. Congratulations to our winning artists in the Fine Arts Society Show.

Dallas Fehrman received 2nd place for her “Zentangle” mixed media piece

Megan Matts received 3rd place for her clay sculpture titled “Hedgie”

Kristine Snyder received an honorable mention for her fountain

This year’s Fine Arts Society Show was an impressive exhibit. Ten area schools participated, exhibiting roughly 150 pieces. The show was on display at the Oakdale Mall gallery through March.

Harpursville artist moves to next level in congressional art show

We are proud to announce that Georgia Baker has won an award for the best use of medium in the 2015 "Artistic Discovery" 22nd Congressional District High School Art Competition.

Georgia's winning entry, titled "A Hero of Punk," will advance, along with five others from Broome County and winning entries from similar competitions in the 22nd Congressional District's other seven counties, to the finals on April 18 at Roberson Museum and Science Center in Binghamton. The competition is hosted by U.S. Rep. Richard Hanna.

The first-place winner will be displayed on the grounds of the U.S. Capitol, and the second- and third-place winners will hang in Hanna's district offices.

The competition has taken place annually since 1982, and this year includes entries from a record nine Broome County high schools:

Binghamton, Chenango Valley, Deposit, Harpursville, Maine-Endwell, Seton Catholic Central, Union-Endicott, Vestal and Whitney Point.

More than 60 works were on exhibit in a variety of mediums, including

"Pisces" by Dallas Fehrman paint, pencil, digital photography and computer art.

Sharon Ball, executive director of the Broome County Arts Council, was quoted in the Binghamton Press as saying, "the level of talent on display speaks well to the future of the arts in Broome, as well as the strength of the programs in the county's high schools.

"Some of these are just frighteningly good," she said. "The thing that gets me is the dedication of the teachers, because they're working with students of different interests and skill levels, and look what they're bringing out."

The entries were judged by three local artists. The work was ranked according to six criteria: composition, line, color, level of difficulty, use of medium and originality.

Sharon Ball went on to say in the press piece, "The idea is, look at the talent in your community. Look at what these kids can do.

And look at the teachers who dedicate themselves to helping these kids do well."

Bands perform during Music In Our Schools Month

In celebration of Music in Our Schools Month, the Harpursville music department took the junior band (3/16) and senior band (3/18) to perform at the Oakdale Mall. Later in the week, shoppers also got to hear the 5th and 6th grade chorus perform. A fantastic job was done by all.

30 years
MUSIC IN OUR SCHOOLS MONTH

Music In Our Schools Month® is celebrating 30 years of raising awareness about school music programs and the importance of music education.

Adult tickets are $5, student and senior tickets are $3. This is a kid-friendly show that promises to be a lot of fun. The Guild has decided to change one thing: the setting of the original story. Alice will now be a country girl who gets dropped into an urban landscape. With this simple change, the play takes on a whole new feel. If you can't imagine what that would look and sound like, then you have the perfect excuse to come out and enjoy some theater with us. Concessions will be available during intermission to support the IMAG Scholarship Fund. Thank you in advance for all the support. - Paul Peterson, director

IMAG Presents 'The Adventures of Alice in Wonderland' - adapted by Tim Kelly

Last May, the In-Motion Arts Guild (IMAG) took to the stage with a production of "A Very Bad Day for Brandon Butterworth" by Scott Haan. Audiences watched as Brandon got caught three-timing - but was he really, or was there something else going on? The production was designed for upperclassmen and helped support the IMAG Scholarship Fund for graduating seniors attending college. The club gave out five scholarships for a total of $300. Even though the acting roles were filled only by upperclassmen, the rest of the club painted, designed, built, and did all the other jobs to make this performance possible. A big thank-you to all who attended the shows.

This year, IMAG has grown so much that we have a separate school play group and a Theater Club. Most participants take part in both, but not in every case. One great result of this change has been the number of kids who are able to participate on some level. More than 30 students participated regularly and had a great time. Do any of these names sound familiar: Andrea Austin, Sydney Behal, Robert Bertram, Lindsey Bird, Amber Birt, Aubrey Cluck, Kristin Cogshall, James Cole, Ben Copeland, Kaitlyn Ellsworth, Morgan Flemming, Annamarie Goosley, Brittney Hamilton, Cody Hawkins, Kamerin Lawton, Morgan Linkroum, Stella Marin, Bethany Niles, Alec Peterson, Jacob Peterson, Sarah Peterson, Katelyn Rooker, Wyatt Rowe, Grace Smith, Marisa Turck, Courtney Tyler, Cassandra Wayman, Catherine Wayman, and Derick Wilson?

The Theater Club has already met 12 times and participated in everything from team-building activities to several small seminars covering topics from public speaking to creative improvisational work. Many of their antics will be on display during the upcoming performance of "The Adventures of Alice in Wonderland" adapted by Tim Kelly. The performance will be in the Harpersville High School auditorium. Join us for the 150th anniversary of this timeless story.

Students celebrate Pi - and pie – at annual event

Our seventh-grade students recently observed “Pi Day of the Century” on March 12 (3.12.15.)

Conducted in the gymnasium, the event included a pie-eating contest won by Braydon Pedley. The students then participated in three activities. First, they learned about the history of Pi and created a timeline. They then re-enacted Buffon’s needle drop experiment, but with Pixy Stix. This method of approximating pi uses probability instead of circles. The students combined approximation was 3.2668..., which is close to the actual 3.14159.... Next, the students wrote pi-mericks (concrete poems) and “pi-kus” (free verse) poems to commemorate the day.

After learning more about pi, volunteers competed in a hula hoop contest that, for the first time, had no winner. Under the rules, students must keep the hula hoop going as long as they can. When it drops, they’re done. But this time, 3 o’clock came around before any of the hula hoops dropped. Matt Lyon, Sara Williams, Lindsey Bird, and Seth Baker will need to finish the contest at a later date in order to crown a champion.

The freehand circle drawing contest honoring Archimedes was won by Kaitlyn Dattoria. The final activity was the recitation of the digits of pi. Five students competed. Everyone memorized more than twenty digits of pi, which is amazing. But our winner, Logan Culver, managed 74 digits. Logan worked really hard and the entire 7th grade is proud of him.

Anyone need party, wedding, or shower favors?

The Entrepreneur Club, aka The Soap Club, is venturing out again. The club has added soap favors to their repertoire. Club advisor Leslie Dauphinais has commissioned an assortment of small heart

It is time to mark your calendar for the annual daVinci Festival.

The opening gala reception is slated for 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on May 2 at the Broome County Library.

This is a great show of student work in grades K-12 from all over the Southern Tier.
The show runs the entire month of May.
Our art department is participating, so come celebrate the beautiful work our creative teachers and students produce.

“I am certain of nothing but the holiness of the heart’s affections and the truth of imagination...”

— John Keats (1795 -1821)
