Studying the sweet taste of 'gumdrops geometry'

By Karen Shannon, fourth-grade teacher

Our fourth-graders recently experienced geometry in a very interesting (not to mention tasty) manner.

Students have been learning about the various types of angles, including the right, isosceles, equilateral, scalene, acute and obtuse angles, and prisms. The teachers surprised them with a hands-on review of the module lessons.

Rotating through stations with a partner, the students constructed the various angles they learned by connecting gumdrops with toothpicks. One example was modeled with the class and then the students moved on to construct their creations.

As you can tell by the pictures, this activity was loved by all. Of course, in the end, they were able to sample the sweet flavors of their creations.

Board of Education to conduct its April meeting at BOCES

The Harpursville Central School District Board of Education plans to conduct its regular business meeting on April 20 in the board room at Broome-Tioga BOCES Leslie F. Distin Education Center, 435 Glenwood Road.

It will be the first time the Harpursville board has held such a meeting at BOCES.

The Harpursville district regularly sends students to off-campus placements that board members have not recently visited. Many of our students attend BOCES' Career and Technical Education programs as well as its newly minted Tech Academy. These hands-on programs are designed to ensure students are both career and college ready. In addition to earning state-recognized certificates in a career field that prepares them for immediate entry into the workforce, students are also prepared to further their education at college or other post-graduate training institutions.

The off-campus session will give board members the opportunity to meet with BOCES District Superintendent Allen Buyck and members of his administrative team to learn more about the opportunities BOCES can offer our students.

The Harpursville board will conduct its regular business meeting and then tour the various programs. The regular meeting is scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m. Residents wishing to attend should expect to sign in to the guest register at BOCES before proceeding to the board room, the second door to the left once past the foyer. Signs will be posted.

New phone system will be easy to use and efficient

Starting Monday, March 16, a new telephone system is scheduled to be up and running across the district.

The system will function very much like in the past, but with new features that include an auto-attendant and voice mail option for teachers and staff. The auto-attendant will quickly and efficiently distribute calls to specific locations within the district. The auto-attendant can be reached at 607 693-8101. Callers will then hear the following:

Thank you for calling the Harpursville Central School District.

If you know your party's extension, you may dial it now.

For attendance, press 1

For transportation, press 2

For the health office, school nurse, press 3

For the W.A. Olmsted Elementary School, press 4

For the Jr. Sr. High School, press 5

For special education, press 6

For food service, press 7

For athletics, press 8

For the business and district office, press 9

Another enhancement will enable parents to leave a voice mail message (press 4) for teachers in the elementary and high school buildings. Building secretaries will also be able to transfer callers to teacher voicemail.

From 7:55 a.m. to 3 p.m., external callers will be able to leave only voice mail messages for teachers. External calls will not ring into the classroom during these hours. All calls outside these hours will ring directly to the teacher's classroom.

Callers will hear these prompts at their respective building:

W.A. Olmsted Elementary School - 607 693-8115

Making a good mark

Students in Michael Ramsden's Materials Properties class worked on a variety of projects during the fall semester, including tables and cabinets.

Mitchell Weist, Garrison Paugh, and Madison Hoover decided to dedicate their time on a different project. After learning that the stencils used by the grounds crew to mark the football field were at the end of their useful life, these three football players elected to build a new set to be used next season when lining the field.

Mexican art comes alive after school

Fifth-grade students in Ann McDonald's after-school program recently learned about how the artisans of Oaxaca, Mexico, made alebrijes (folk art sculptures) out of carved wood.

These sculptures depicted animal-like creatures and were brightly painted. The students had fun making their own sculptures out of paper, cardboard and plaster wrap.

FUN!

Important lessons on staying afloat

-Amanda Fabrizi

Students in the After School Program had the opportunity to create a competitive swim program using the pool at Afton.

We have worked on proper breathing techniques, various strokes, diving, flip turns and more. The kids have done a wonderful job and have shown steady improvement during the course of program. Great job, swimmers!

BOCES Tech Academy offers interesting alternative for 9th-graders

In September, Harpursville was afforded the opportunity to send a few of our 9th-grade students to a new program called Tech Academy, career and technical education program offered through Broome-Tioga BOCES.

Currently there are 10 Harpursville students enrolled. Students attend for half the day and then the other half is spent on the home campus. Tech Academy focuses on predominantly project-based, hands-on learning. Students in the program receive three credits, one each for English language arts; design, drawing and production; and Introduction to Technology.

This has been an excellent opportunity for our students, whose responses have been very favorable. Most recently, the group was assigned the task of building a chair out of cardboard. The project was done in pairs. The chair had to hold one of the instructors.

Many students in the group were excited about the project, even requesting extra time to complete their work. The finished chairs were quite impressive. (see adjacent photographs)

Young artists to exhibit talents in regional art show, other news

In recognition of the very talented young artists in our district, we are pleased to announce our participation in An Artistic Discovery Show. This is a very competitive regional exhibit sponsored by Richard Hanna. The show is open to high school students residing in Hanna's 22nd Congressional District, which includes the counties of Broome, Chenango, Cortland, Herkimer, Madison, Onieda, Oswego and Tioga.

Students will show first at the Broome County Arts Council Gallery at 81 State Street, Binghamton (5th floor). The opening reception is 6-9 p.m. March during Binghamton's First Friday Art Walk. The show will be up until April 3 with a closing reception during the April First Friday Art Walk.

The winning work from this round will go to Roberson Museum and Science Center, 30 Front Street, Binghamton. The reception will be Saturday, April 18.

The 'Doctor' is in!

It's that time! Surgery is needed ... and fast!

Teacher Megan White and her French 1B students were working on verb surgery in February. Students learned how to conjugate verbs hands-on by cutting words up, connecting them to their proper endings and then participating in 'post-op' reporting.

As is evident in the photograph, White was suited up for the occasion.

One winning artwork will hang for an entire year in the tunnel leading to the U.S. Capitol alongside winning entries from throughout the nation.

Second and third place artwork will be displayed in one of Congressman Hanna's District Offices. Each artist will receive cash prizes donated by the congressman.

Other shows:

Be sure to stop by the Fine Arts Society of the Southern Tier (FASST) 2015 "Young at Art" competition opening at 6 p.m. March 12 at the Oakdale Mall Gallery. We have a number of students entering this juried exhibit.

The Fine Arts Society of the Southern Tier strives to provide a venue to educate about the arts, nurture talent and encourage creative vision and growth. The organization hosts this annual competition to give our artistic youth the opportunity to have an exhibit experience, showcase their creative talent and win awards.

Come and support the young artists of the Southern Tier. The show will be up at the mall gallery until March 30.

Look in our April newsletter for the dates of the upcoming annual daVinci Show and any exciting updates from previous competitions.

Thank you for supporting the arts in our school and community.
